

MODERN SLAVERY ACT STATEMENT

of International Game Technology PLC (with its subsidiaries "IGT") for the financial year ended 31 December 2018

INTRODUCTION

In line with its core values, IGT strives to take steps to ensure modern slavery and human trafficking is not present in its supply chains nor in any other part of its business. This statement describes the steps IGT has taken during the 2018 financial year to meet this goal.

IGT published its first Modern Slavery Act Statement in June 2017, and since then, IGT has increased its efforts by raising awareness with suppliers.

International Game Technology PLC and one of its subsidiaries, IGT UK Interactive Limited, meet the legal threshold required to produce a Modern Slavery Act Statement, under the Modern Slavery Act 2015. IGT publishes an annual group statement covering International Game Technology PLC and all of its subsidiaries, including IGT UK Interactive Limited. All IGT's Modern Slavery Act Statements can be accessed via www.igt.com.

IGT SUPPLY CHAIN

IGT and its direct and indirect supply chain businesses are exposed to a highly regulated and controlled environment. Its direct supply chain consists of materials purchased to use in its own product manufacturing and IGT's manufacturing process follow procedures set out by the International Organization for Standardization (a non-governmental global organization that define international standards and specifications for products, services and systems, to ensure quality, safety and efficiency). IGT's indirect supply chain consists of purchases of third-party off-the-shelf products that are typically manufactured for the general public, not specifically for IGT. These products are used for IGT's customer solutions as well as for internal business infrastructure.

PROGRESS – SUPPLIERS

As part of the due diligence performed in 2017, IGT mapped its suppliers by industry, sector, and geographical area. As a result, IGT determined that nine percent of the analyzed suppliers had a high-risk of exposure to modern slavery.

During the 2018 financial year, IGT collected questionnaires from suppliers that were deemed high-risk during the 2017 mapping exercise. More than 90% responded. The results demonstrate that IGT's suppliers are aware of issues surrounding human rights related topics.

Moreover, in 2018, IGT drafted a Supplier Code of Conduct, bringing together contributions from different business departments. Meetings were held to define the content and scope of the Supplier Code of Conduct which is intended to strengthen the principles of working together and helping suppliers understand the standards and behaviors expected by IGT.

PROGRESS – CODE OF CONDUCT

In 2018, IGT's Code of Conduct was updated to include the Company's zero-tolerance approach to modern slavery and its commitment to implementing and enforcing effective systems and controls to reduce the risk of contracting with suppliers who practice modern slavery.

The updated Code of Conduct is available at: <https://www.igt.com/explore-igt/about-igt/compliance>.

FOCUS FOR 2019

Considering the results of the questionnaires' analysis performed in 2018, IGT published its Supplier Code of Conduct in 2019 and defined criteria to distribute it to its suppliers. The Supplier Code of Conduct includes requirements related to business ethics and regulatory compliance, human rights and labor practices, environmental regulations and protection, responsible mineral sourcing, health and safety, and confidential and proprietary information.

IGT continues to strengthen its approach in managing the risk of modern slavery within its business and respond to changing risks.

This statement is made by International Game Technology PLC in accordance with section 54 of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and has been reviewed and approved by the board of directors of International Game Technology PLC on 17 May 2019.

Marco Sala
Chief Executive Officer
for and on behalf of International Game Technology PLC

17 MAY 2019

Date